

Counting game

A game for two players. Cut out the squares and put them through a laminator to make them stronger. One player has the blue ones and the other one has the red ones. Both players have a dice and a box. They take turns using the dice and put the same amount of smiley faces in the box as the number on the dice tells. The first one to have all his smiley faces in his box is the winner. Print 2x for more squares.
