

Bingo – find the first letter or sound in a word

For this bingo I made 8 bingo cards in the size A4. In the Icelandic alphabet we have 32 letters. 2 of them are never the first letter in a word so I did not use them here. Each letter was on 3-4 cards. I made three different types of cards to use in the bingo. One group had animals and two with mixed pictures. See pictures on the next page.

What you need:

- A4 paper
- A4 carton paper as thick as you can put in the laminator machine
- laminator machine and plastic
- scissors
- pictures and words to use in the bingo
- basket for things used in this bingo
- Whiteboard marker (one for each player)
- Cloth or something else to clean the bingo cards after the game

What you do:

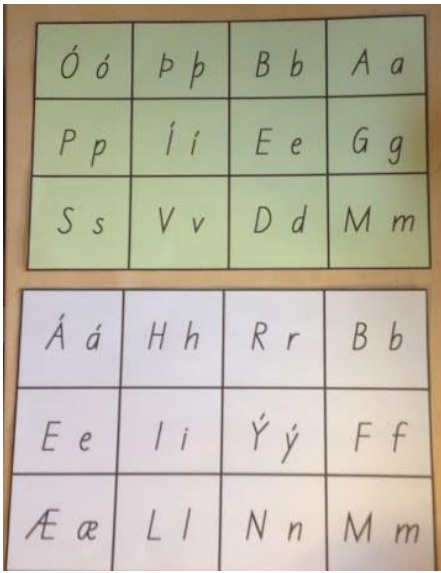

- the bingo cards are made on a A4 carton. I put 12 frames on each card and in each frame I put one letter (I used a font called Skriftis Grunn and the letters were 72pt bold)
- find pictures on the internet put them into frames same size as are on the bingo cards. Below in the frame you write the word. I had the first letter bigger and red colored bold. (Skriftis Grunn 22pt the first letter and 20pt the other letters in the word)
- I marked each group on the backside (1,2,3) so the groups don't mix.
- print out the pictures and cut.
- put in plastic and through the laminator machine (no need to cut the bingo cards)

The game:

- played like normal bingo. One is the reader and drags one card at a time and reads the word with some help from the picture. The reader drags f.e. Monkey. The players look at their card to see if they have M and if so they use the whiteboard marker pen and make an X in that frame. The winner is the one that has put X over all the letters on his card. Clean the cards with cloth and play again.

Note:

- this bingo is made for kids that are 4-6 years old but if you make it for older kids you might not need pictures.
